

WOMEN'S SAFETY

Dutta- UG/SOET/30/24/132 Pritam Debnath- UG/SOET/30/24/85 Safidul Sarkar- UG/SOE

Problem

ives in the society, the threats they are facing are also on the rise and with the current state

Solution

Analysing existing cases of attacks on women as examples for the time, place and the environment

Market

uch as: - Revolar: A wearable device that sends alerts to emergency contacts with a press

Market

analysis to help reduce all types of crimes in a city. But as of 2025, no company has made

Key Features of our Model prevent false alarms in cases where the AI may falter or the apps may send out a false sign

Customer

ces equi-distant from the AI. Moreover, the government agencies are the only ones who ha

Possible Roadblocks

maintenance. Need for high speed connectivity in all parts where the system is taking signals

Privacy concerns sad reality of today's digital world. While we are browsing the internet or doing anything on clear EULA, which is easy to understand by the users and they can also opt out of it if they

Cost of installation and maintenance though it would be able to help with safety, as the AI will need huge amount of storage as well as processing power to maintain a strict level of excellency to not compromise with its abilities. Storing the

Restructuring of existing communication and help system much coverage as possible to make our AI be able to response in case of emergency to be

Ethical Constraints and Solution which we may face to deploy the AI: Privacy Bias and Discrimination Surveillance State Lacking we plan to overcome the ethical constraints: Transparency with data Bias mitigation Regulation

Conclusion

would need to take various steps in order to overcome all of the aforementioned roadblocks.

Sources

18_Artificial_Intelligence_A_Smart_and_Empowering_Approach_to_Women <https://python>